Eagle Roofing Products Florida LLC Soon To Complete New Manufacturing Plant
New facility will support the continued strong demand for concrete tile roofs in the Southeast

Orlando, Fla. Nov. 9, 2006 – Eagle Roofing Products Florida LLC (“Eagle”), a subsidiary of Burlingame Industries, will soon complete construction of its new Sumterville, Fla. concrete roof tile manufacturing facility in central Florida. The new plant will support the continued strong demand for concrete tile roofs in the Southeast and nationwide.

Initially, the facility will have four production lines capable of producing 1.7 million squares of concrete tile a year, enough to cover 57,000 homes per year. The products produced by the new plant include Eagle's highly sought-after high, medium and low profile concrete tiles—similar to the products currently offered in other markets but with colors and blends appropriate to Florida and the Southeast. The soon to be available capacity will be a tremendous step forward to meet demand in a marketplace with a long history of product shortages.

"While Eagle continues to have a strong presence in the western United States, it is now looking forward to serving a group of customers that have been neglected over the past five years. Eagle has always prided itself on taking care of customers of all sizes and is pleased to offer our level of service to the Florida and Southeast markets," said Bob Burlingame, chairman and CEO of Burlingame Industries, parent company of Eagle Roofing Products Florida LLC. "Eagle is excited and prepared to supply such an important market. The plant is one step further in continuing our efforts to serve everyone in the marketplace—regardless of their size."

The new central Florida facility is located on more than 50 acres of land. When it achieves peak utilization, it will be the largest tile manufacturing plant in the world, eclipsing Eagle's own Rialto, Calif. facility. The new plant measures 228,000 square feet and when at full capacity will employ at least 200 people.

When the facility becomes fully operational in the coming weeks, the total construction time will have been the shortest new build project from Burlingame Industries. For the speed of construction to date, Eagle credits the cooperation of the city, county and other local construction officials which have been integral in keeping the project on schedule.
