Beauty. Curb Appeal.

Eagle concrete tile roofs are available in a multitude of profiles and colors that emulate traditional roofing materials like clay, slate and wood. Boosted Capistrano and our Camino Real color line specifically emulate the look of natural clay.

Natural clay tile comes in many shapes, sizes and vibrant colors.

History. Longevity.

Concrete tile is a lower cost alternative to clay. Concrete tile roofs have been used in Europe for many decades. They are considered equal to clay in durability and longevity.

Clay roofs are one of the original roofing materials and have been used for centuries in Europe. Their durability and lasting beauty have been proven time and again.

Green building Environmentally friendly

Eagle makes an effort to be responsible about recycling and re-use activities in the production of our tile. We are a leader in these efforts, including:

- Reject tile is crushed and reintroduced
- Tile mold release oil is recycled from restaurant fryers
- Our curing chambers employ a low nox process
- All sealers are water based
- Engine oil and filters from plant equipment are recycled

In addition, concrete tile can be recycled once it’s removed from a roof. It does not add to landfills.

Clay tile manufacturers vary in their recycling efforts.

Energy Saving Roof

Eagle offers the Energy Saving Roof which is an installation method that creates ventilation in the roof, thus helping to prevent heat transfer into the home. This reduces the need for air conditioning and results in energy savings.

Currently, no clay tile manufacturer offers a specific energy saving roof system.

Cool Roof Tile

Eagle offers Cool Roof Rating Council approved colors that can result in 10-30% energy savings. We do not charge a premium for these products.

Several clay tile manufacturers offer CRRC approved colors

Solar Roof

Eagle has worked with a solar panel manufacturer to develop the Eagle Solar Roof. This combination of solar panels and tile results in a roof that performs while producing electricity.

No clay tile manufacturers have worked with a solar panel provider to develop a panel that will fit seamlessly with their tile.
